ANXIETY

Everything Anxiety Ever Told You Is a Lie

Well, almost everything!

Dr Toni Lindsay

A practical and therapeutic guide to managing anxiety, written specifically for those aged 14–25 by a psychologist with over 15 years of experience working with adolescents and young adults.

EverythingAnxiety Ever Told You Is a Lie is aimed at young people who are experiencing anxiety in their everyday lives, across the breadth of the anxiety spectrum. It emphasises that anxiety is completely normal, and something that can be managed by taking the steps that are right for you. The book contains practical, effective activities and exercises that each reader can apply to their own set of circumstances.

Written by an expert and grounded in extensive research and clinical experience in anxiety, ACT, and uncertainty.

Author Bio

Dr Toni Lindsay is a qualified clinical psychologist who has been working with both adults and adolescents for over 10 years. She works at Chris O'Brien Lifehouse, a cancer treatment center in Australia, in the Oncology and Haematology departments and has a special interest in the care of adolescents and young adults with cancer. She is an AHPRA approved supervisor and works predominately from an Acceptance and Commitment Therapy framework. Her first book was titled Cancer, Sex, Drugs and Death (Australian Academic Press, 2017) and focused on the psychological management of young people with cancer. More recent titles include The Cancer Companion and The Certainty Myth, published by Exisle Publishing.

During more than fifteen years spent working clinically with adolescents and young adults (primarily in the health context) Dr Lindsay has developed a unique perspective and understanding of the challenges of managing anxiety. She observes, 'Through my clinical practice with young people, anxiety is showing up more and more frequently. It is now rare that I will meet a young person who has not identified that anxiety has been a concern for them in the past.'

The Mindful Freak-Out

A rescue manual for being at your best when life is at its worst
Eric Goodman, Ph.D.

The Mindful Freak-Out presents strategies from Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT) and Compassion Focused Therapy (CFT) to give you the evidence-based tools you need to face highly distressing moments. The goal of these strategies is to soothe your suffering while giving you the inner strength, wisdom, and commitment needed to face the emotional pain in a flexible way that you feel good about (rather than deeply regretting your words or actions later on). Loaded with practical advice, exercises, and information, this book will help you harness the power of mindfulness and compassion to live your best life, even when intensely painful emotions show up. The Mindful Freak-Out presents strategies from Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT) and Compassion Focused Therapy (CFT) to give you the evidence-based tools you need to face highly distressing moments. The goal of these strategies is to soothe your suffering while giving you the inner strength, wisdom, and commitment needed to face the emotional pain in a flexible way. The result is an outcome where you feel good about your response, rather than deeply regretting your actions or words.

A Compassionate Guide to Living in an Increasingly Anxious World Eric
Goodman, Louise Gardner

Just like The Beast in the fairy tale Beauty and the Beast, anxiety is an emotion that society initially misjudges as the villain. Your Anxiety Beast and You is a kinder, more compassionate approach for people suffering from anxiety. Rather than living with an enemy inside your mind, you're encouraged to see anxiety for what it really is—an inner hero. It is always trying to protect you from threats, however, it is completely confused about what are true threats in the modern world.

Coping and thriving with the reality of social anxiety
Eric Goodman

Social Courage presents a step-by-step, structured program for minimizing suffering in the face of social anxiety while giving readers the tools to boldly work towards their social goals. It acknowledges that social anxiety is a normal human experience, with only as much power as you are willing to surrender to it. There is no shame in it, and it is felt by everyone to some degree; we just need to learn to break free from its constraints.

The Clear Leader

How to lead well in a hyper-connected world

James N. Donald, PhD, Craig S. Hassed, OAM

A cutting-edge guide to achieving authentic modern leadership, from experts in business psychology and mindfulness.

Today's hyper-connected world poses many challenges to leaders: how can you cut through the noise of tech distraction, navigate the rise of AI, deal with information overload, and lead others to success amidst it all? The Clear Leader provides evidence-based guidance to doing just that, giving you the tools to strategize, prioritise, and connect, while sustaining your own wellbeing. Informed and empowered by the latest research, you will master the four key leadership capabilities:

1. Purpose: identifying and communicating your purpose to your team.
2. Priorities: conscious decision-making about where to invest your focus and energy.
3. People: leading people with your full attention – and theirs.
4. Personal: managing your attention and energy in your personal life.

The Flourishing Woman

A mental health and wellbeing guide
Dr Cate Howell OAM, CSM, CF

The Flourishing Woman is a unique, holistic guide to fostering women's mental health and wellbeing, allowing them to overcome challenges and flourish in life. It emphasizes the influence of mental health and wellbeing on the prevention of ill-health (physical and mental), and on living a satisfying and meaningful life.

The book addresses many topics that are highly relevant to adult women, including why women often put themselves last; ways to overcome stress, overwhelm and anxiety; reproduction, menopause and mental health; and managing parenthood challenges and relationship issues. Other topics include the impact of trauma and physical illness on mental health, and strategies to manage these impacts; and how to silence self-criticism and grow self-worth.

Complex Kids, Simple Solutions

Jenny Demark, PhD, Conrad Leung, BCBA,
Linda Reinstein, PhD

Prepare. Teach. Motivate.

Penned by two child psychologists and a behavioural analyst, the book weaves together theories and principles from the fields of developmental, cognitive and clinical psychology. It offers proven parenting approaches, used by the authors over decades of working with children and families, and based on three essential fundamentals: Prepare. Teach. Motivate.

The book explains how these concepts apply to almost any situation, from the mundane to the meltdown. Once you understand and master them, you will be able to tackle just about anything with confidence, precision and consistency. Covering everything from the morning rush to helping your child handle big emotions, from minimising screens to the proactive power of spending quality time with your child, Complex Kids, Simple Solutions is a reader-friendly, sometimes humorous manual that gives you practical solutions to parenting problems. This is your guide to raising cooperative, resilient and likeable kids.

Perfect for parents and carers of children of all ages, from toddlers to teenagers.

Dr Jenny Demark is a Child Clinical Psychologist whose goal is to improve the quality of life for children and their families by sharing the insights of Prepare. Teach. Motivate! She has decades of experience working with children, youth, parents and schools, and she is known for her warm and collaborative approach to skill building. Dr Demark enjoys outdoor activities, eating gourmet food, and maintaining a net-zero energy home with her husband, two sons and rescue dog.

Conrad Leung is a Board Certified Behaviour Analyst who is passionate about helping people. He has worked with diverse families and a variety of professionals in homes, schools, clinical and group care settings. He strives to translate principles and research into solutions that produce meaningful changes in the lives of children, their families, and those who support them. He also supports and supervises future Behaviour Analysts. In his spare time, Conrad enjoys learning from his young children, cooking from scratch, and listening to good music.

Dr Linda Reinstein is a Child Clinical and School Psychologist with a broad range of experience in understanding, assessing, and consulting about complex developmental, learning, and behavioural issues. She strives to help parents and children make meaningful changes in their relationships and lives through collaboration, connection, skill development and compassion. No Time for Makeup

The life of a flying doctor and paediatrician
Dr Elizabeth Green

The incredible story of a woman who took the path less travelled to work for the Royal Flying Doctor Service in remote parts of Australia, and what the experience taught her about life, death and human connection.

No Time for Makeup is a raw, unguarded insight into medical life. It is about the light and the dark sides of providing life-saving care. The complexities of practicing in a time of unprecedented social change. The conflicts of being a working parent. The quiet moments of gaining a patient's trust, and being inspired to become a better doctor.

'A girl from the bush becomes a flying doctor and a paediatrician — a compelling story of courage, determination and, above all, professional dedication, filled with gratitude for those who helped her along the way.' - Jay Weatherill, former Premier of South Australia

"It was 1988. I had no time for makeup and wore a crushed heart on my sleeve. My life was up in the air. Being a flying doctor grounded me. I went underground to rescue a miner trapped in a rock fall and flew across the outback to treat a critically ill baby. I learned that medicine was not all life and death experiences – it was the quiet moments when you gained a patient's trust." - Dr Elizabeth Green

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dr Elizabeth Green worked in hospitals and in general practice before landing a job with the Royal Flying Doctor Service in Kalgoorlie, Western Australia. The children of the outback inspired her to become a paediatrician, a passion lived for twenty-four years as a private paediatrician in Perth/Boorloo.

The Royal Flying Doctor Service (RFDS), commonly known as the Flying Doctor, is a non-profit air medical service in Australia that provides emergency and primary health care services for those living in rural, remote and regional areas of Australia who cannot access a hospital or general practice due to the vast distances.

Beating Burnout

Mike McKinney

A comprehensive guide to the reasons behind burnout, with effective, practical ways to manage and prevent burnout to create a more balanced future.

Burnout is a phenomenon that can happen to anyone, yet it is most often found in high-pressured workplaces, especially those where promotions and target achievement are valued. In this timely book, clinical psychologist Mike McKinney takes an informed look at the features of burnout, why and how burnout happens, and the signs it might be about to strike.

After noticing an increase in patients struggling with burnout in their work roles, Mike McKinney found that there are common underlying personality traits in an individual that can result in an increased vulnerability towards the development of burnout.

The author then provides options and answers, along with suggestions for positive changes that can be sustained, and offers ways to help the reader consider a wider (and possibly new) purpose in life that is underpinned by ways to enhance resilience.

Beating Burnout is an insightful, practical book for professionals and anyone experiencing burnout, as well as those who would like to help someone in burnout.

9781923011069 | Feb 2025 | $16.99 | Paperback | 232 Pages | approx. 60,000 words | 198 x 129 mm | Self-Help / Personal Success

- While workplace change is often touted as the solution, the author details how certain personality traits (e.g. the 'all-or-nothing' personality, fear of failure) contribute to burnout. The book then outlines changes the reader can make to help them overcome and prevent burnout.
- A valuable resource for professionals, HR departments, partners of those experiencing burnout, psychologists, counsellors and life coaches.
- Written by a clinical psychologist who has spent over two decades observing the impact of personality on achievement and assisting clients in transforming their lives for the better.
- Includes helpful practical exercises and suggestions.
- Makes use of elements of Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT).

Author Bio

Mike McKinney is a clinical psychologist with over 25 years of experience. He has worked in both public and private practice settings, and over the years has become intrigued by the potential for an individual's personality style to affect decisions and behaviours in relation to achievement.

General Lucian K. Truscott

'Quite a talent for fighting'
Professor Glyn Harper

Explores the life and military career of Lucian Truscott, one of the greatest, yet least celebrated, US combat commanders of World War II.

Born in Texas to a drug-addicted father, Truscott would become one of the United States' greatest ever combat generals. Expert in mechanised warfare and amphibious operations during World War II, he was a plain-speaking, determined fighter.

The book traces Truscott's rise as a senior American commander in various theatres of war, including the campaigns in North Africa, Sicily, Italy and southern France. It examines Truscott's relationship with other senior American commanders such as George Patton (who once threatened to sack him), Mark Clark (who didn't like him), Eisenhower and George Marshall.

Truscott made a significant contribution to the defeat of Nazi Germany, improving his command skills with each new experience. Being placed in command of the Anzio beachhead was his finest hour, where his vital contribution ultimately led to the capture of Rome.

General Lucian K. Truscott: 'Quite a talent for fighting' is for military enthusiasts looking to expand their knowledge beyond the well-known names of World War II canon.

- New, succinct and fast-paced biography of one of America's greatest, yet least celebrated, World War II generals.
- Includes detailed accounts of key moments of a distinguished, innovative leader's life in several theatres of war including North Africa, Southern France, Sicily and mainland Italy.
- Truscott's success in Italy was critical to the Allied victory in Europe.
- Uses previously unpublished photographs and other new materials.

The Blind Strategist

John Boyd and the American Art of War
Stephen Robinson

An unflinching account of the maneuver warfare revolution that has corrupted the American art of war. Colonel John Boyd revolutionized the American art of war through his ideas on conflict and the human mind. Boyd claimed that victory is won by the side that transitions through 'decision cycles' faster than the enemy, mentally checkmating them with minimal violence.

Healed by purring

Although we have been living with cats for the better part of 10,000 years, we are still not fully clear what is going on when they are purring. But they purr when they are happy, but also when they are not.

A cat's purr releases biological endorphins – in the cat and in you too when you hear it. Cats purr in a cyclic purr sound range of 20 to 25 Hz (Hertz) which creates a chemical reaction that helps heal infections in bones and muscles. This 'vibrational therapy' is helping with healing in cats and even humans, whether or not they have an infection requiring healing.

Just hearing a purr is relaxing. Some say it can even help them sleep with a regularity. But not every cat purr sounds the same, and purr frequency, and while you can generally hear it as a sign of contentment, do check that the cat is not dealing with stress or injury.

Dogs and children

For a child, the benefits of having a dog at home are considerable and well researched. Generally, adding a puppy to the family in the preschool years helps children to develop their own confidence and acquire a sense of responsibility. As puppies are generally very social, exposing big happy babies to canines they meet, the child's own social experiences and skill levels are also quickly developed.

Professor, Jennifer Widely MSc, from Stanford Health, writes:

"Taking care of another living being teaches humanity and responsibility which we can all benefit from."

Michael Hawton

Parenting teenagers can be tricky at the best of times. But when the tough issues arise — behavioural problems, unacceptable risk-taking, bullying, alcohol abuse — things can get extremely difficult and parents can struggle with what to do. Drawing on psychologist Michael Hawton's 30 years of experience, Engaging Adolescents is a practical guide to help you steer your teenager through the challenging times with confidence.

Using case studies and based on universally-accepted mediation principles, this is a highly practical, skills-based book that gives you the tools to resolve conflict and build better family relationships. Hawton's advice is honest and open-minded, building on his own parenting successes and failures.

Smart Start

How Exercise Can Transform Your Child's Life
Margaret Sasse

Children need exercise, not just to stimulate their bodies but to stimulate their brains as well. The first five years of a child's life are now seen as crucial to later health, well-being and success. Exercise and good diet are especially important in ensuring that the pre-schooler has a healthy start in life, develops a good brain and avoids the problems of obesity. Margaret Sasse has had decades of practical experience in the area of child development, and in training parents and teachers on the importance of healthy food and exercise. Smart Start is a practical guide for parents on how to give their children the best start in life, with down-to-earth advice on diet and exercise to encourage optimum physical and intellectual development. The book is carefully organised to provide a step-by-step programme for each year. Simply written, and attractively presented with dozens of lively illustrations and practical exercises, it will soon become an indispensable tool in raising your child.

PARENTING

Anxiety Coach

Every parent's guide to building resilience in their child

Michael Hawton

The Anxiety Coach is a practical, evidence-based guide for parents of children with anxiety, giving all parents the confidence and the tools to solve their child's anxiety problems.

With 18 years of expert, qualified experience, the author shows how to help children and tweens build up the necessary brain architecture and perspective, and create the emotional reserves and balance needed throughout life. Parent-led strategies for managing child anxiety based in cognitive behavioral approaches are vital for the successful treatment of mild to moderate levels of child anxiety. Parents, carers and grandparents are on the spot when a child is behaving anxiously and simple interventions by them can be used across time as an effective treatment for child anxiety. User-friendly features in this book include:

- Case studies of a family who have successfully tackled their children's anxious behavior.
- Worksheets outlining the methodical steps parents should take.
- Advice on how to manage a child's digital world.
- Tips to help worried parents deal with their own anxious thoughts and feelings.

Author

Michael Hawton has spent much of his career working with parents and their children. He has been training family services workers and educational leaders in the area of behavior management for over 17 years. Michael has developed parent education programs that have been taught to over 150,000 parents and professionals since 2006. A father of two, a published author and a former schoolteacher, Michael brings a clear and unambiguous method-based approach to guide parents through a parent-led method for resolving child anxiety.

Inside the Dyslexic Mind

A resource for parents, teachers and dyslexics themselves

Laughton King

In Laughton King's formulation, a dyslexic person is like a diesel vehicle. They run perfectly if you give them the right fuel, but if you put petrol in the tank (i.e. expect them to learn like every 'normal' child in our current education system) they break down. This book is designed to help dyslexic (diesel) thinkers make sense of their lives.

The Chronic Pain Couple

How to be a joyful partner & have a remarkable relationship in spite of chronic pain

Karra Eloff

The struggle to maintain joy & a fulfilling relationship while coping with chronic illness and pain is a serious problem for millions of people. Australian entrepreneur and health professional Karra Eloff draws on academic research and her own pursuit of joy in spite of suffering to bring this trailblazing, compassionate, low-energy and practical path to a remarkable new normal, for you and your chosen human/partner.

On average, one in five adults suffer from chronic pain. In older people, the number rises to three in five. Most of these people don't realise they don't have to settle for a survival-based coexistence with their partner or bury their hopes for success and joy under a mountain of heat packs or duvets. Chronic illness or pain, according to Karra, need not hold you back from experiencing personal joy and success. It is possible to forge a path to remarkable—to move the dial of a relationship challenged with chronic pain from embattled and exhausted to joyful and passion-filled.

The Wisdom Years

Unleashing Your Potential in Later Life

Zvi Lanir, PHD

The Wisdom Years provides a practical, thought-provoking and life-changing read for both people embarking on retirement and younger people who would like to mindfully prepare themselves in advance. Derived from Dr Lanir's lifetime of work experience in identifying mindsets that are no longer helpful, it reveals how to reframe our thought processes so that we can live life based on our 'functional age' rather than our 'chronological age'. The result is a book that carries a unique and inspiring message: life after retirement is to be enjoyed as a new, exciting and uplifting journey of personal evolution.

Honey Bee Pests and Diseases

A complete guide to prevention and management

Robert Owen, Jean-Pierre Y. Scheerlinck, Mark Stevenson

Honey Bee Pests and Diseases is written by three scientists who are also long-time beekeepers. It provides up-to-date information on the management of honey bee diseases found globally, not just in the U.S., Europe, or Australia. Of particular interest are the explanations of how pathogens affect honey bees. This facet of diseases is usually left out of honey bee disease books.

Written in an easy to understand way, and richly illustrated with photographs and diagrams, chapters cover integrated pest management (IPM), epidemiology, viruses, brood diseases, mites, parasites, as well as other problems a colony might face. The book is largely based on the Ph.D. research of Dr. Robert Owen, who studied the effect of bee diseases in Australia and overseas with particular reference to Varroa. Both Prof. Jean-Pierre Scheerlinck and Prof. Mark Stevenson have extensive and well-recognized experience in honey bee research. The authors of Honey Bee Pests and Diseases have been keen beekeepers for over twenty years, and have a professional interest in bees through their university research. This book enables beekeepers to take the best from each country's practices.

Guiding Lights

The Extraordinary Lives of Lighthouse Women
Shona Riddell

Women have a long history of keeping the lights burning, from tending ancient altar flames or bonfires to modern-day lighthouse keeping. Yet most of their stories are little known. Guiding Lights includes stories from around the world spanning two millennia, as we discover the physical and mental risks of isolation, the heroism of the female keepers, how they came to be hired (especially in the 19th century), and the mysteries and legends that are inextricably part of lighthouse history.

Oliver Kitten's Diary

The Journals of a Mischievous Cat's First Year
Gareth St John Thomas

Oliver Kitten was born in a firetruck and ends up living with a three-generation multicultural human family in a four-bedroom house. He keeps a diary of his own escapades and the things he hears and sees his family get up to. At once cute and funny, Oliver is a little naughty and sometimes downright wicked in his precocious observations of the things the humans in his house get up to.
