The Most Wonderful Gift in the World

Mireia Olivé Obradors & Anastasia Wessex

NEW!

A universal tale about tenderness and unconditional love that will thrill the whole family

The little mouse searches and searches the forest for the most wonderful gift for his mother: What could he give his mother to show her how much he loves her? Perhaps a pine cone full of pine nuts? Or a beautiful flower? Or an eye-catching feather? But when the day of the birthday arrives, nothing turns out as he expects... How will the little mouse show his love?

My Grandma Has a Lion

María Elina Mendez

What would you rather forget: someone's name or that you had a lion?

Leon's grandmother is not the same as always. His mother warned him before his visit and Leon realizes this once he is with her. They are small gestures, nothing too obvious. But for him, this grandmother who laughs out loud, gets her hands and feet dirty and tells all kinds of incredible stories is not strange, she's fantastic! This is a touching story which talks about memory loss and confusion associated with old age; about how we perceive the changes and about a child's ability to receive life's challenges with love and joy: not with prejudice, but with affection.

Why does this town cheerfully celebrate for a whole year-round?

At school, at the factory, in the barracks, at the grocery, sounds of a great celebration can be heard all year long, though no one really knows how it all began. The winds of freedom are blowing through the dances, music, and songs that overflow the town. What's happening this year? Why all the dancing, music, and song? A musical flight, a colorful whirlwind that takes us into a huge and crazy party that finally doesn't need to justify itself to exist.

What can you expect from a famous louse?

How strange! A louse, a bug so small, so annoying, so parasitic, such a scourge of mothers, fathers and teachers... turned into the protagonist and hero of a children's album. And no, he is not the bad guy in this movie. If he had been one, our work would have another title such as 'ME AGAINST THE LICE' or 'DUEL ON MY HEAD'. But this is not the case...

Luz Troublesetter Series

Alba Castellví & Iru Expósito

The Treasure Closet

Luz looks like any other kid... but she does one thing that very few people know how to do: she solves problems, and that's better than having superpowers! Do Diego and Hugo fight because they want the same toys? No one chooses Helios, Luz's best friend, to play in the playground? Luz knows that a problem is an opportunity to think a little, and she won't miss it to help those she loves the most and solve all kinds of misunderstandings and complicated situations.

Alba Castellví is an educator and specialist in conflict management, in addition to writing for parents and children and providing training for teachers and families. Teacher of all ages and teacher of Didactics and has already published books for adults and children with very good reception from critics and the public.

Iru Expósito is a children's illustrator and, when she's not drawing and thinking up stories, she prepares murals and does custom commissions. She has worked for Cartoon Network and Redbubble, among other prominent clients.

Solving a problem is way better than having super powers!

ABOUT STARRY NIGHT

The problems keep multiplying! From now on, Luz's parents have told her that she must stay for lunch at the school cafeteria, but she doesn't want to. As if that weren't enough, the teacher says she's fed up with teaching, that she wants to retire and let them wake up on their own. And that's just the beginning! But don't worry, no matter how complicated they may seem, Luz knows that problems are opportunities to think...

Self-conclusive stories using an out-of-the-box approach from a child's point of view to solve daily problems, developing SEL and empathy in a very fresh and comic-like easy-to-read new series. Luz's solutions won't disappoint!!! Always witty and fun, meet Luz, your best friend!

SELLING POINTS

- Narrative and comic in full color, with short paragraphs and four self-conclusive stories for the most reticent readers.

Dad has a new partner... but what if I don't really get along with her?

ABOUT MY DAD AND I

Dad has a new partner. When she's here, Dad is not the same: it seems that all that matters is to please her. Well, I don't like pleasing her. We're fine, Dad and I. Doesn't she have another child to tie shoelaces to? A relatable story of a little girl who becomes attached to her father's new companion.

SELLING POINTS

- A simple yet touching story that recounts the journey of embracing that your parents have new partners.
- By bestselling author and media phenomenon: Héroïse.
- Ideal to talk about how to navigate jealousy, anger, and changes in the family.

The Parade

The day Grandpa marched at the head of the parade, the youth festival became more real and my plastic rifle became heavier. He's indeed old, but I didn't know he'd fought in the war. That day I was proud when he took me by the hand. Everyone respected him because a long time ago he had left Cameroon to become a « tirailleur sénégalais ». I also understood why he doesn't like guns, even the plastic ones I play with. Now we both prefer peace.

A novel about a touching relationship between a boy and his great-grandfather and about memory and peace.

Mysteries in Maya country

As part of a study of pre-Columbian people, Alex Moury's class travels to Mayan country in Mexico. But during a trip by pirogue, some students get lost in the jungle. Fleeing from a gang of traffickers, the children take refuge with the Lacandons. But jaguar is also on the prowl. To escape their pursuers, both beasts and traffickers, they enter a deep cavern that leads to a perfectly preserved (and inhabited!) Mayan city. To preserve their secret, will the Mayans let the children go?

Pub. year: 2020

Mysteries in Rome

Alex Moury's class takes part in an archaeological course in Rome, where they meet other Italian pupils under the guidance of a slightly mad teacher. They discover an Etruscan tomb which, according to the indications engraved on the sarcophagus, is that of an evil god. But isn't it dangerous to awaken a god capable of hurling thunderbolts at the city? And what happened to the professor whose body is found in the stone sarcophagus?

My Family and Other Animals

Hurricane Paquita is approaching, and it is not just about the storm to be announced on the news, but about the fearsome Aunt Paquita, who comes from town to spend a few days at Lolo and Colás's house. And she is bringing her cat! As if that were not enough, in class they have been assigned a project on "humans as social animals." What the hell does that mean? On top of that, Lolo and his friends have been foisted on the insufferable Margarita as their co-worker. With any luck, she'll stay glued to her new phone and leave them alone. Although Lolo is never lucky...

Escape Book

Jordi Sierra i Fabra & Alberto Díaz

Only the best readers will be able to escape...

Elisabet goes to the fair with her best friend, Alicia, and Bruno and Iván. There they will enter an attraction called Escape Book which, as its name suggests, is a literary-themed escape room. At first, it doesn't seem like anything special: riddles about One Thousand and One Nights, Robinson Crusoe, Peter Pan... the typical stuff. Of course, the setting is amazing! Maybe too much...

When the walls begin to appear and disappear, Elisabet and her friends understand that the consequences of not finishing the challenge in time could be much more dangerous than what one would expect from a fairground attraction.

Kori is a deaf boy who lives in the Sahara refugee camps and goes to school without understanding what reading and writing is for. In his uncle's corral a little caramel-colored camel is born, which soon becomes his friend. Kori is used to seeing words in mouth movements; That's why, when the camel moves its lips, Kori thinks it's talking. And this is how the need to learn to write is born in him, to be able to capture the poetic words of his friend Caramelo. But one day, one terrible day...

A new superheroine? Not just that, but a detective as well

Her name is Carla Ventura, and she describes herself as "the best detective in the whole wide world". Carla loves investigating, solving mysteries, and reading comics. Within their pages, we can find narrative text, a large amount of dialogue, and as is to be expected, given that the main character is a big fan of comics, a great deal of comic art. Comics are used as a narrative language combining literary and graphic aspects and are also a fascinating aesthetic reference for children with their fantasy, colour, great adventures and intense feelings.

Equipo Lechuza is formed by Miguel Can, Álvaro Núñez, and Alberto Díaz. From a young age, all three felt a special inclination for drawing. Infected by the universe of the cartoons they saw on TV, the adventure comics and the mystery books they read, they ended up studying Fine Arts, Architecture and cartoons respectively. This passion ends up becoming a profession, each working independently for publishing houses and design and communication companies; which makes possible their participation in projects that range from comics, web design, animation, textbooks, space decoration and many more projects on such exciting topics as environmental education, food and health, and humor. among many others.

Looking for Pharaoh

Eager for adventure, Yann, Loup and Nanie love meeting up at Gaspard's house. Today, this kind-hearted but slightly mad old inventor has some great news: his time machine works, and the three friends will be able to travel back in time! First trip? A day in the Egypt of the pharaohs. But it seems that Anubis, god of the dead, has decided otherwise... If our three heroes wish to return to their own time, they must first save Khephren, heir to the Egyptian throne! A perilous mission. Accompanied by Princess Meritites, the three friends will criss-cross the country and cross paths with a "Shadow Swallow", killer and henchman of Djedefre. Brother of Khaphre and evil Pharaoh, he'll do anything to keep his place...

Pub. year: 2018

Attack on Troy

Sent by old inventor Gaspard to the heart of the Trojan War, Nanie, Yann and Loup have a mission: to find King Priam's treasure. But when they arrive, they discover a plot hatched by two Trojan merchants and a high priest. Wishing to hasten the end of the war to resume their activities, they kidnap Astyanax, son of Hector, during a banquet. The child is freed on condition that the Trojans let Helen return to Greece. Without delay, our three heroes set off in search of the young boy. They take turns to infiltrate into the Greek and Trojan camps, posing as envoys of the god Kronos. If they don't find Astyanax, the outcome of the entire war is threatened... But the Time Explorers are ready to brave any danger to restore the course of history!

Pub. year: 2019

Double Plot in Rome

For this third travel in time, Gaspard invites Nanie, Loup and Yann to immerse themselves in a major event in the history of Rome: Caesar's Triumph. The teenagers are thrilled at the prospect of attending the festivities alongside the Emperor and Cleopatra. The only problem is that a plot, led by an as yet unknown enemy, is being hatched against the Queen of Egypt. Once there, the three friends find themselves drawn into the city's underworld, where they discover the lively daily life of Roman people. In the middle of the night, Nanie is kidnapped and sold the next day on the slave market! Our heroes are disoriented in a city where events are out of their control, but an unexpected encounter could change everything.

Best-selling author Alain Surget shows the dangers of changing the course of history while time traveling!

Feel the Wind & Ray of Light

Gracia González

Feeling and experiencing nature is one of the wonders of life

Feel the Wind is an intermediary through which we can pause, to perceive and reflect on nature. The die-cut windows and abstract figures are as essential to this book.

Ray of Light begins with light passing through a tiny opening, then invites the reader to move the book around to see the light from different perspectives and understand where it is coming from. The playful shapes stimulate the imagination, accompanied by light's faithful companion – shadow.

The poetic text escorts and gently guides the reader through the experience.

My Body Feels & My Body Speaks

Patricia Fernández Bieberach & Margarita Valdés

Good experiences teach us to accept and value our body.

My Body Feels is about their feelings and bodies. The body feels and shows emotions through movements and behaviors. A smile lights up a face, anger pinches it and fear makes us want to hide... The illustrations connect children with simple experiences, helping them recognize and name their emotions.

My Body Speaks is an invitation to explore the different parts of the body through gestures and actions. Combing their hair, sticking out their tongue or looking at their belly, we invite the child to experiment with their own body. Children can play alone or with someone, but the best is when everyone participates trying not to forget that the discovery of the world begins with their own body.

Farewell, seeds!

Lorena Ruiz

Seeds can get their job done in different ways

Let's understand the cycle of seeds and their respective trees. These restless seeds do not stay still: they fly, swim, float. They wait, they hide, they fall. And as they interact with all that is good in this world (the sun, the air, the water, the animals, the insects), they find a way to grow.

At the end, there is info for kids to plante their own tree and understand and respect life on our planet.
